Janesville, Oct. 14th, 1861. By Order.

PRISONERS FROM RICHMOND.—Two of the wounded soldiers belonging to the Second Wisconsin regiment, along with about fifty others, recently released from Richmond, arrived in Baltimore on the 8th. The names of the Wisconsin soldiers are Fred. H. Main, company D, Janesville Volunteers, compound fracture of the tibia, doing well; and J. A. McIntosh, company K, wounded through the abdomen and back, walks on crutches.

Platteville, in Grant county, has sent three companies of volunteers to the war; Green Bay sends twenty soldiers, but the latter makes up her quota in officers. Green Bay was "born to command."

DIRT CHEAP.—The papers say that in Sparta, Wisconsin, the butcher's sell beef steak at four cents a pound.

The European Nations Sympathizing with the Rebel.

It is undeniably true that the slaveholders' rebellion has the sympathy of nearly every government in Europe; and so much influence has the governing classes over the mass of the people of those countries, that they also generally either look with unconcern upon our troubles, or heartily sympathize with the rebels.

The first great reason for this state of things is a dislike of democratic republican institutions. The old governments of Europe desire above everything else that our system of government shall fail. Its success, for eighty years, is a standing rebuke and condemnation of their despotisms and aristocracies. Even the people of Europe are made to believe by education and habit, that kings and lords are a sort of necessity; just as it is said that slaves are found in our own country who believe in slavery.

The capitalists of Europe are opposed to us because our example as a democracy continually threatens to disturb their investments in loans to reigning dynasties. They do not like us for another reason: we are independent of them—able to carry on our wars without their aid. America has wealth of her own in ready capital, as well as in her resources. The capitalists of London cannot endure the idea that the best and safest loan ever offered by any people should all be taken on this side of the Atlantic, while they are obliged to keep their three per cents, and even that is rendered perilous by our success.

The agricultural interests do not like us because we furnish cheap bread to the millions of the people of Europe. The land owners want high prices, and they think if America was out of the way they could have their desire; but while, by our competition, they are compelled to sell cheap, they also see a stream of gold flowing westward every year, (and this season more than ever,) to buy grain and provisions. Instead of realizing the hope that our divisions would destroy us, they find that we supply more grain than ever, and that Europe is dependent upon us for food, even while the great rebellion still exists.

The European manufacturers are also influenced against us by interested motives. We presume to manufacture for ourselves, in America, and have the audacity to compete in the markets of the world with England and France. If we could be content to furnish the raw material only, and permit the old world to make everything for us, we should have friends and sympathizers; but we strike for independence in everything—we aspire to lead, instead of following the nations of the earth; and therefore we must expect the opposition of enemies. The south, however, asks for nothing but slaves and the privilege of supplying a raw material, cotton, to these manufacturers; hence, being good customers instead of competitors, the English lords of the loom strike hands with southern lords of the lash. They are opposed to us of the north who compete with them in making cloth, and in favor of the south who want everything, and manufacture nothing.

Thus we find that the governments, capitalists, land owners and manufacturers of Europe have motives of self-interest to incline them to favor the slaveholders' rebellion in this country, and we should therefore prepare to meet this opposition with all the prudence, philosophy and physical force necessary to sustain us in the trying ordeal through which we are passing.

AN EXAMPLE.—Cromwell was rewarded for these services by the commission of a colonel of cavalry and the independent command of a thousand horses, which he was to raise, arm, and train as speedily as possible. He set to work at once, and with a will. Night and day he drilled his stalwart yeoman—nearly all freeholders or the sons of freeholders—preaching, exhorting, instructing, with tameness activity and zeal, and fully determined to undertake no work long as they grew there, and handled their clubs as if they grew there, and handled their clubs as if they had been willow wands. * * * * *

At last Cromwell had got his troops ready. They were disciplined to perfection, and every man of them was brimming over with enthusiasm for the "good old cause." One more task applied to ascertaining if there were perchance any cravens amongst them, and then for action. He posted, Heath tells us, a number of trusty men in ambush, who as his soldiers trooped by, at exercise, were to stand by their fort and upon the first sign of wavering, or of any man taking flight with blade of trumpet and war whistles. It fell out as Cromwell desired; and his keen eye marked out about twenty that were affected by panic. Men unable to panic were not fit soldiers for him; and having called them together, he mildly pointed out that, willing and zealous they might be, they were not fitting instruments for the required service, and they would not therefore, he trusted, object to transfer their horses and accoutrements to their own regiment. He remembered—to men more capable of fighting the battles of the Lord. They acquiesced with as good a grace as, under the circumstances was possible; and now, all being ready, the men drawn up in iron array, and awaiting the signal for departure, Cromwell in order that there might be no misunderstanding on essential points, thus addressed them: He would not, he said, seek to perplex them as others did, about fighting for King and Parliament. He was a plain man like themselves, and did not understand such subtleties. It was Parliament alone, for the liberties of the land, for the establishment of God's righteous rule on earth, that they were about to fight. For himself, he declared that if he met King Charles, he would as soon discharge his pistol upon him as upon any private man; and any soldier present who was troubled with a conscience that might not let him do the like, he would advise to retire at once from the ranks. A shout arose from the ironside, the trumpet sounded, and welcome away the first levy of that astonishing cavalry, the most decisive soldiers the world perhaps has ever seen—men who never hesitated before any odds, however great, or any enterprise, however perilous, and with whom the day of battle was invariably the day of victory.—Papers for the People.

A SECRET EXERCISE.—A large number of troops have been transported from Washington to Annapolis, preparatory, we suppose, to an expedition to some part of the coast, via Chesapeake Bay. The railroad has been so constantly in use that the mail has been carried in an irregular manner.

OTTO.—Tod, the Union candidate for governor, is elected by about 50,000 majority.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

On Thursday last, in the port of New York, there were thirty-five ships loading with wheat for the single port of Havre, France.

The earnings of the great lines of railway connecting the east and the west, are greater by nearly thirteen per cent, in 1861 than they were in 1860.

The following is the report of the sick in the federal hospitals near Washington on the 4th inst., as officially reported: E street hospital 104, Seminary 176, Union 178, Columbian 209, General 58, Alexandria 186—total, 911. This is a slight increase over the last week, but yet a very low total of sick in hospitals considering the large number of men in the camps.

Two more K. G. C's have been arrested in Marion, Ohio.—Dr. J. M. Christian, a leading democratic politician of Marion, and Thomas Hodder, editor of the Marion County Democratic Mirror. The arrests were made quietly, and the men were taken to Cleveland and imprisoned.

John Bell is now residing at Nashville, Tenn., with his son-in-law, one of the numerous Yeastman family. He is not only politically, but also financially ruined, and his love of liquor is said to have increased greatly of late.

SEND THEM THE PAPERS.—Those having friends in the army will do them a great favor by sending them their home papers. The brave boys who are fighting the battles of their country are at least entitled to this slight token of remembrance from their friends at home.

The news from Kentucky indicates that Gen. Buckner has abandoned the idea of wintering in Louisville. It looks as if he was preparing to go in another direction shortly. Our army is becoming too formidable.

JUST AS PERTINENT NOW.—Gen. Washington, during the revolutionary war, wrote to Gov. Trumbull, of Connecticut, suggesting the seizure of all persons who were hostile to the cause of the colonies. "Would it not be prudent (he asked) to seize those who have been, are, and we know will be, active against us? Why should persons who are preying upon the vitals of their country be suffered to stalk about, while we know they will do us every mischief in their power?"

SLAVERY IN THE BORDER STATES.—So-called slavery is having precisely the effect on the border states which was predicted in advance. Accounts from southwestern Missouri state that large numbers of slaves are now constantly forwarded by their masters into Arkansas and Texas, as they have recently been from the northern and western parts of the state. It is said that there are now not much more than half as many slaves in Missouri as there were at the time of the secession of South Carolina.

NEW BANK.—A new bank, to be called the Bank of LaCrosse, is to be stated at La Crosse, to issue circulation in three weeks, with a cash capital of $25,000. The officers are: Benjamin Allen, president; L. C. McKenny, cashier. The circulation is secured by pledge of Wisconsin state bonds.

A LONG BRIDGE.—The bridge now in process of construction over Butte des Morts lake below Menasha, is 2,700 feet in length. It is expected to be completed in about two weeks.

DIPHTHERIA RAGING IN SHERBOGAN CO.—This disease has for some weeks prevailed quite extensively and fatally in the western portion of Sheboygan county, says the Times. We learn that in one school district in Plymouth, some eight or ten deaths have resulted from that cause within the last thirty days. On Thursday, the 19th of September, the eldest son of James Baldwin was buried. On Thursday the 20th of the same month, Mr. Baldwin himself was buried. On Thursday last a daughter was consigned to the same resting place, and another child was then lying sick with but little hope of recovery—all from the same disease.

LOOK BEFORE YOU KICK.—A minister in one of our orthodox churches (the Vineyard Gazette says) while on his way to preach a funeral sermon in the country, called to see one of his members, an old widow lady, who lived near the road he was traveling. The old lady had just been making sage and she felt proud of them, they were so plump, round and sweet. Of course she insisted upon the minister taking some of the links home to his family. He objected, on account of not having his portmanteau along. The objection was soon overruled; and the old lady after wrapping them in a rag, carefully placed a bundle in each pocket of the preacher's capacious coat. Thus equipped he attended the funeral. One of the grave some hungry dogs scented the sausages, and were not long in tracking them to the good man's overcoat. Of course this was a great annoyance, and he was several times under the necessity of kicking the whelps away. The obsequies of the grave completed, the minister and congregation repaired to the church where the funeral discourse was to be preached.

After the sermon was finished, the minister halted to make some remarks to his congregation, when a brother, who wished to have an appointment given out, ascended the pulpit and gave the minister's coat a hitch to gain his attention. The divine, thinking it a dog having a design upon his pockets, raised his foot, gave a sudden kick, and sent the good brother sprawling down the pulpit steps.

"You will excuse me, brethren and sisters," said the minister confusedly, and without looking at the work he had done, "for I could not avoid it. I have sausages in my pocket, and the dog has been trying to grab them over since I came upon the premises."

IOWA ELECTION.—As the returns of the Iowa election come in, Gov. Kirkwood's majority increases, and his plurality over Col. Merritt will not be far from 20,000, with a majority of at least 10,000 over all.

Col. Salomon, of the 8th regiment, has received permission the fill up to the number of fifteen companies, (three battalions) provided it does not materially delay the departure of the regiment.

NOMINATIONS IN GREEN COUNTY.—The following nominations were made at a convention held at Monroe, on Saturday last: E. A. West, state senator; county school superintendent, Wm. O. Green; supervisors, Mr. Westcott, E. R. Allen, and Henry Adams.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

Special dispatch to the St. Louis Republic.

SYRACUSE, Mo., Oct. 14.

Gen. Cameron, accompanied by Adjutant General Thomas, spent Saturday night at Jefferson, and arrived in Tipton about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. After breakfasting in camp, they rode over to this place, six miles, on horseback, accompanied by Gen. Fremont and staff. Upon their arrival here, the party called upon Gen. McKinty, and after spending half an hour with him, proceeded, in company with him, his staff, and several other gentlemen, to review Gen. McKinty's division, which are encamped here. At the close of the review Gen. Cameron made a few well-aimed remarks to the troops, expressing the highest gratification at the condition in which he found them, and the utmost confidence that in the hands of such men the honor and success of our country's arms were dependent.

The review was given for Gen. Cameron, Fremont and McKinty, after which Gen. Cameron and his party, accompanied by Gen. Fremont and staff, went by railroad to Tipton, where they reviewed Gen. Ashboth's division, which was also in excellent condition, and then they went on by special train to St. Louis.

It is understood that Gen. Cameron came here at the request of the President, to examine the condition of affairs in this department, and that he professes himself highly gratified with the condition of Fremont's division.

Col. Merrill's cavalry have gone down the Osage on a scouting expedition.

Generals McKinty and Stanley are to remain here and not go east, as reported.

Gen. Fremont is on the eve of moving, but is greatly embarrassed by want of transportation.

Within a few days parties of rebels have been foraging 50 miles south of Sedalia.

I have very late intelligence from Price's army. My informant, a citizen of this county, deserted and rebels who lay down their arms. He left Price on Wednesday, a short distance south of Johnston, in Bates county, moving southward. He represents that great dissatisfaction exists in Price's army. Desertions occur every day, and if assurances could be conveyed to them that they would not be sharply dealt with, he thinks that the greater part of the state guard would lay down their arms and return to their homes. They are tired of the war, and are only prevented from deserting in large bodies by the assurances of their officers that if they are caught they will be hung as traitors, and by the stories of horrible Union outrages, which are industriously circulated among them. The most exaggerated accounts of atrocities committed by our army, the destruction of property, burning of towns, and ravishment of women, are circulated and believed among them. Eight or ten thousand men, taken from the belt and to his company, deserted along with him, and are ready to give themselves up.

CAIRO, Oct. 14.

Detachments of Noble's cavalry and Reardon's infantry, returned yesterday from a foraging expedition to Thompson's farm, Missouri, five miles back of Price's Landing. They captured four thousand bushels of corn, twenty mules, seventy sheep, twenty head of cattle, two horses, and two cash prisoners. The property is worth $50,000.

Special Dispatch to the Chicago Evening Journal.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.

Secretary Cameron returned to St. Louis last evening. He reviewed the troops at Tipton and held a consultation with Gen. Fremont.

I understand that Secretary Cameron expresses himself well pleased with all of Fremont's arrangements, and will set the cabinet right on the matter when he returns to Washington.

A committee from our city banks has called on Secretary Cameron upon financial matters connected with the western department.

The Eighth Wisconsin Regiment, who arrived here yesterday, were addressed by Secretary Cameron this morning, in front of Barum's Hotel. He complimented the men for their soldier-like appearance, and the gallant little state of Wisconsin, who already has seventeen thousand men in the field, for the support of the constitution and the liberties of the free people.

There is nothing of marked interest from the frontier. Our movements are going forward satisfactorily.

Two telegraphic repairs were shot Friday night, while watching the wires near Tipton. Notice has been given to the inhabitants along the line from Jefferson City and Syracuse that if the telegraph is interrupted reprisals will be made on their property.

An order of arrest has been issued for Rev. Mr. McCullough, editor of the Christian Advocate, for treasonable editorials. Handbills were printed at the Advocate office for Gen. Buckner of Kentucky, last week.

The merchants of this city have brought all Missouri money to a specie basis to-day, as per their previous agreement. It works well. Trade is thus far unimpaired. These notes opened in the morning at 10 per cent discount, but before the close of the day the rate for the money was 5 per cent.
